EVANSVILLE COLLEGE
Evansville, Indiana
Volume 39

O u r E C H e r i t a g e

"To the memory of those valiant pioneers who founded and sustained Moores Hill College . . ."

A charter under an act of the state legislature was drawn up and signed on Jan. 10, 1854. This marked the founding date of Moores Hill College in Moores Hill, Ind. On Sept. 9, 1856, Moores Hill opened its doors after completing the first building. The enrollment the first year was 197 students.

The first president of the college was the Rev. Samuel R. Adams. During his administration came the days of the Civil War. At a public meeting he stated: "Boys, if you are going, I am too!" This was a time when "patriotism flamed up in the college halls."

Education at Moores Hill College strove for more than mere knowledge and skills gained in classroom instruction. Moores Hill tried to develop "righteous personality, enriching the individual with the culture of the race, and socializing him to fit harmoniously and happily into the community."

Moores Hill College in 1917 became a junior college. Rev. Alfred F. Hughes, of Columbus, Ohio, was appointed president. Meanwhile, Mr. George S. Clifford, businessman of Evansville, wanted the college moved here. Evansville citizens then pledged $5000 to the college if it were relocated here.

Faced with a financial crisis, President Hughes stated that Moores Hill College must "close its doors—or move." A resolution was passed unanimously to relocate the college at Evansville. With the commencement program of June 1917, Moores Hill College at Moores Hill, Ind., closed its doors.

For over two years, the campaign to raise $1,000,000 for Evansville College was carried on. A charter was signed by the Indiana Legislature on Feb. 17, 1919, establishing Evansville College as a legal corporation. Moores Hill College ceased to exist as a legal corporation; it lives on only in the minds and hearts.

During this time, the United States was engaged in World War I. After the signing of the Armistice in November 1918, the Board of Trustees voted to open Evansville College. On opening Sept. 19, 1919, the enrollment reached 96 students.

The first outstanding day of the history of EC was Nov. 20, 1919, the day of formal opening when Gov. Goodrich of Indiana was the honor guest. It was then that President Hughes gave his inaugural address.

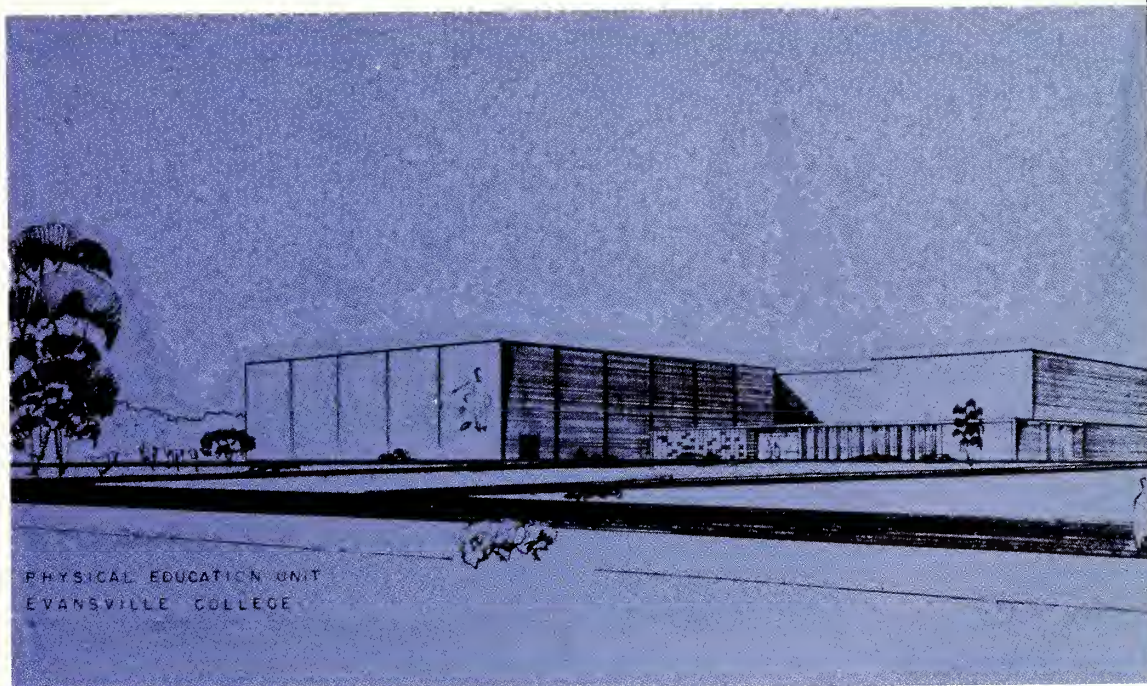

The following year the enrollment increased almost 50 per cent. The Engineering Department was then established. Students then attended classes in temporary buildings downtown. In May 1920, President Hughes broke ground for the Administration Building. In June the cornerstone of the building was laid, and on June 21, Evansville College held its first commencement exercises.

After three years in temporary quarters, the college moved into the new Administration Hall in 1922. Here marked the beginning of an era of Evansville College's History. Since then we have progressed to a growing school within a growing community.

Dedication

Mr. F. Bayard Culley

Each year the LinC becomes a cherished book of memories for many college students and alumni. The wonderful experiences of student days would be impossible without the assistance of scores of dedicated persons, most of whom are not well known by the student body. This book is dedicated to a valued friend of Evansville College. For twenty years Mr. F. Bayard Culley has been a member of the College Board of Trustees and for six years he has been its chairman.

In grateful appreciation for the concerted impact of many years of strong leadership in college and community the 1961 LinC honors a great friend and benefactor, Mr. F. Bayard Culley.

Bachelor of the Year

February 20, 1960

Curt Seib

Curt was selected by the female voters on campus. A member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, he represented the Chi Omega sorority. This dark-haired senior was president of the 1960 senior class and was vice-president and social chairman of Lambda Chi.

Curt Seib was named "Bachelor of the Year" at the Evansville College-St. Joe basketball game.

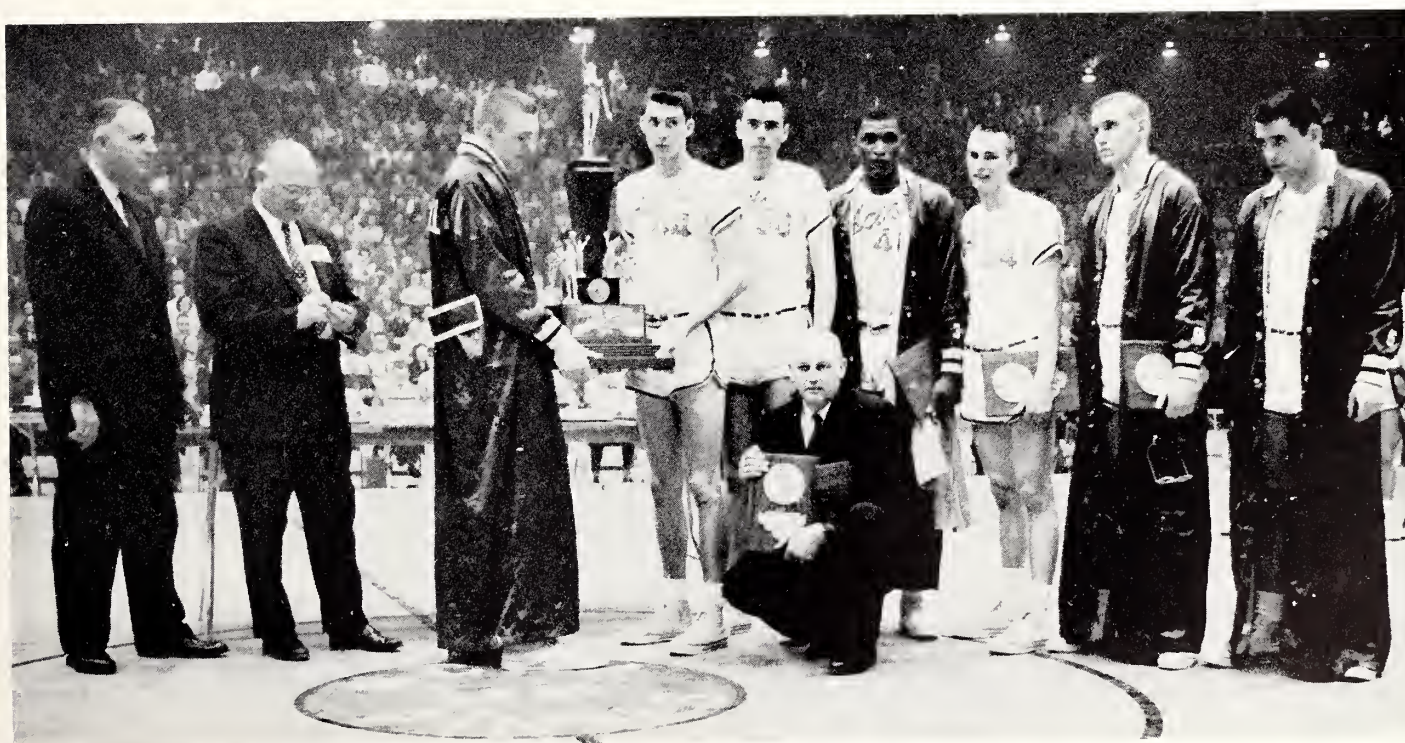

Coach McCutchen and Bob Hudson admire the goat that was sent to the team by Al McGuire, coach of the Belmont Abbey Crusaders.

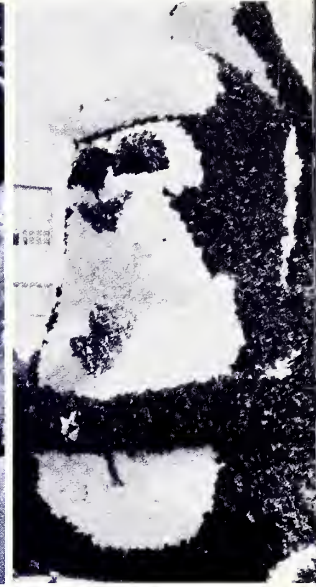

Lambda Chi Alpha was the proud winner of the Inter-Fraternity Council Scholarship trophy. The award is made to the fraternity with the highest point average for one year.

Bonfire

The winning Beta Sigs had a train running around campus.

Homecoming activities opened early Friday night, November 4, with the queen contest. This year's Homecoming Queen was chosen by judges who based their decision on personality, talent, and beauty. Candidates were Sonia Velarde, Mary Ellen Rauch, Nora Fisher, Suzanne Greinke, and Nancy Stoops.

Pumas were roasted at the bonfire in East Side Park later that night and a dance was held in the Union to make the night complete.

Everyone had fun at the dance.

The Phi Mus make their winning tug

On a wet Saturday morning, November 5, homecoming activities began where they left off the night before. The Sig Eps ran away with the tricycle race and the Phi Mus combined their strength to win the tug-of-war.

That afternoon the Aces made a desperate attempt to break the Homecoming jinx but lost to the St. Joseph's Pumas 14-7.

Buddy Morrow and his Nightrainers were on hand at the annual Homecoming Dance to bring a close to the weekend's festivities.

Aces await action.

And they're off . . .

Faculty

President Hyde

Evansville College is many things. It is students, alumni, staff members, trustees, the campus, physical plant. It includes courses, extra-curricular activities, chapel services and convocations. It is a place where much study and planning take place, where dreams are born that often become a reality. There are no exact patterns of action; there are many changing situations and intangibles. However, there is one factor in the history of this college that has been constant and must remain constant. It is the spirit of dedication and self-sacrifice inspired by the firm conviction that Moores Hill College and then Evansville College embody the ideal of sound scholarship and the disciplined mind wedded to Christian faith and character.

It was John C. Moore who in 1854 first dreamed of such a college, and through whose efforts a beginning was made. Wise trustees, able teachers, dedicated administrators, and friends labored, planned, and sacrificed that the youthful college might grow into maturity. Against the dark background of recurring financial problems and worries shine the personal sacrifices of presidents, teachers, trustees, and friends of the college who refused to accept defeat. The year 1917 was one of crisis, and it was then that the College was relocated in Evansville and became known as Evansville College.

We who are on the campus today benefiting from a Christian heritage, an excellent faculty, a well-planned curriculum, and a fine physical plant do so because those who came before us planned carefully and well, and then persevered until their dreams became a reality.

And what of the future? That too will depend on careful plans, dedication, and sacrifice on the part of all who believe in Evansville College and what it has come to signify. Our predecessors planned well for us, and in genuine gratitude to them we who are here today have the privilege of giving of our very best that we may hand on to those who come after us a college of excellence—a college still dedicated to our Founder's ideal of sound scholarship and the disciplined mind wedded to Christian faith and character.

LinC Honorary

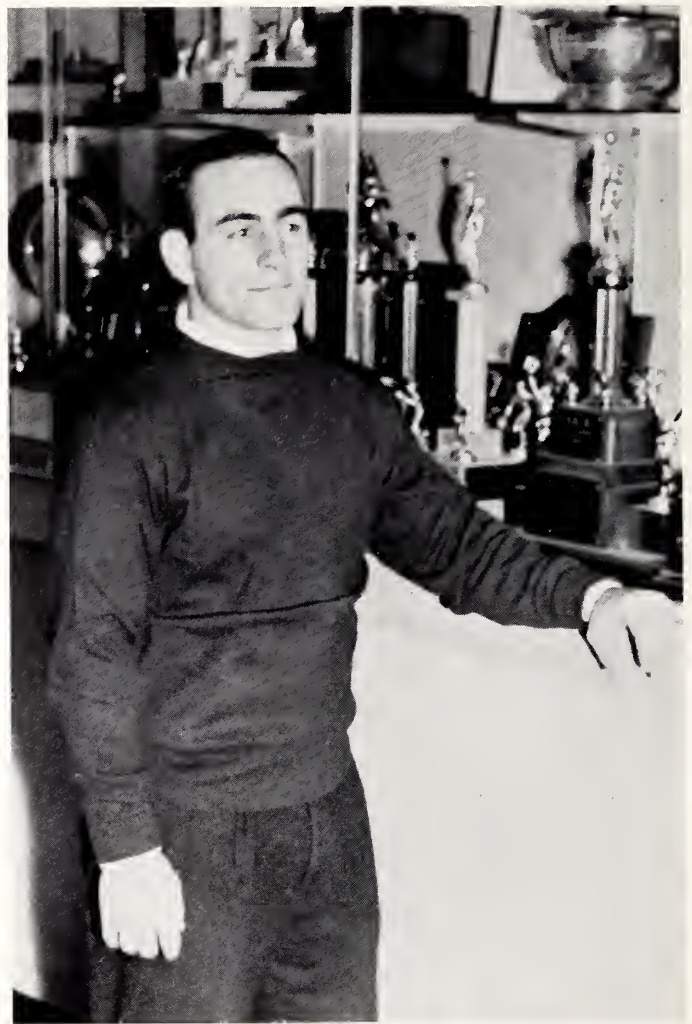

LinC Selects . . .

The editorial staff of the 1961 LinC chose, with careful thought, sixteen men and women from the two hundred and fifty seniors of Evansville College. The qualifications or basis of judgment was hard to define, but was discussed and understood by those selecting. It is best described as those of the Class of '61 who have been pace-setters; in reflection they will be remembered first; theirs, a lasting impression created by leadership, service to the College, a special talent, or a combination of character traits or unique personality that has made people know them.

Peggy Madden

Charlie Ross

Charlie will be remembered as a fine guard on the E. C. gridiron and as president of Hughes Hall. Desire and determination are his two outstanding characteristics.

With enthusiasm, dependability and naturalness, Peggy has symbolized leadership. She gave Chi Omega, Kappa Pi, Pep Club, and Homecoming Committee her energy and dedication.

Bonnie Riney

Bonnie means happiness, and fun; she is sincerity, interest, warmth, and efficiency. Whatever the situation, Bonnie is more than its equal.

Jack Coale

Interested and earnest, Jack served as president of Lambda Chi Alpha and treasurer of the student government. An air of good will, simplicity, and devotion are among his traits.

Jerry Heierman

Considerate, concerned, collegiate—Jerry and dependability are synonymous. He has served as president of Phi Mu Alpha and is winner of the Musicians Club Award.

Jackie Decker

A friendly girl with a dynamic personality, Jackie was always anxious to contribute to her many activities. Her abundant joviality, sincerity, and sense of duty added much to Phi Mu and the Union Board.

Dale Wise

With the dignity and diligence characteristic of all great athletes, Dale Wise consistently demonstrated his remarkable prowess on the basketball floor. He has brought national honor and respect to Evansville College.

June Bartlett

Ponderous, profound Jim Curry. Jim's success in Lambda Chi and WEVC is due to his "Man's man" quality of leadership. He is the considerate, stabilizing force behind a committee or an organization. Add the congeniality of his smile and one finds a strong, genuine personality.

June is all-efficient business when it comes to working on the Union Board, Methodist Student Movement, and Beta Sigma Omicron. A quiet manner belies her many contributions.

Sara Van Scyoc

Quiet and unassuming, Sara was calm, cool, and controlled, completely unruffled by problems. Not a campaigner, she is a persevering leader and worked for the improvement of Chi Omega and Sigma Alpha Iota which she served as president.

Mike Spence

Interested and earnest, Mike served as president of SGA with great ability. Friendly and well liked, he is an excellent student and a pre-med major.

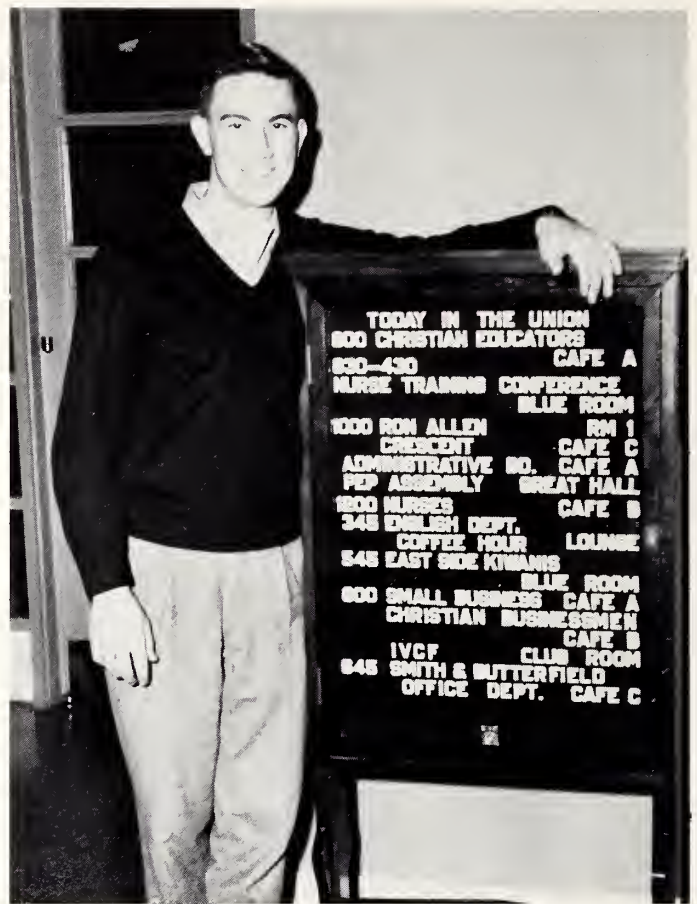

Nancy Stoops

Nancy is an individual. She has served as a leader on many committees with discreet determination. Her efficiency is equalled only by her depth.

Jerry Clark

With desire and determination, Jerry served as president of senior class with great ability. Friendly and well liked, he is an excellent student. Jerry was talented and concerned in his dealings for Phi Mu Alpha.

Dolores Reasor

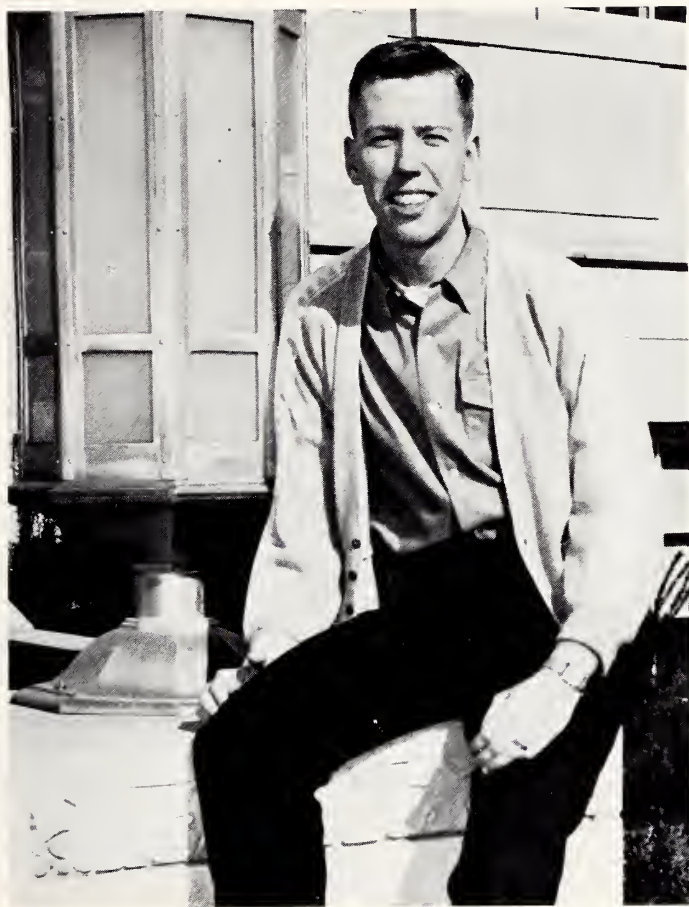

There is a depth to Dolores that is rarely found in a college student. President of Alpha Omicron Pi, and a member of Pi Gamma Mu and Kappa Mu Epsilon, her poise and sincerity had lasting results.

Carol Thene

Carol's is a quiet leadership. Her carefully considered opinion and a million ideas graciously injected for those around have made her an inspiration in INCA.

Jim Sanders

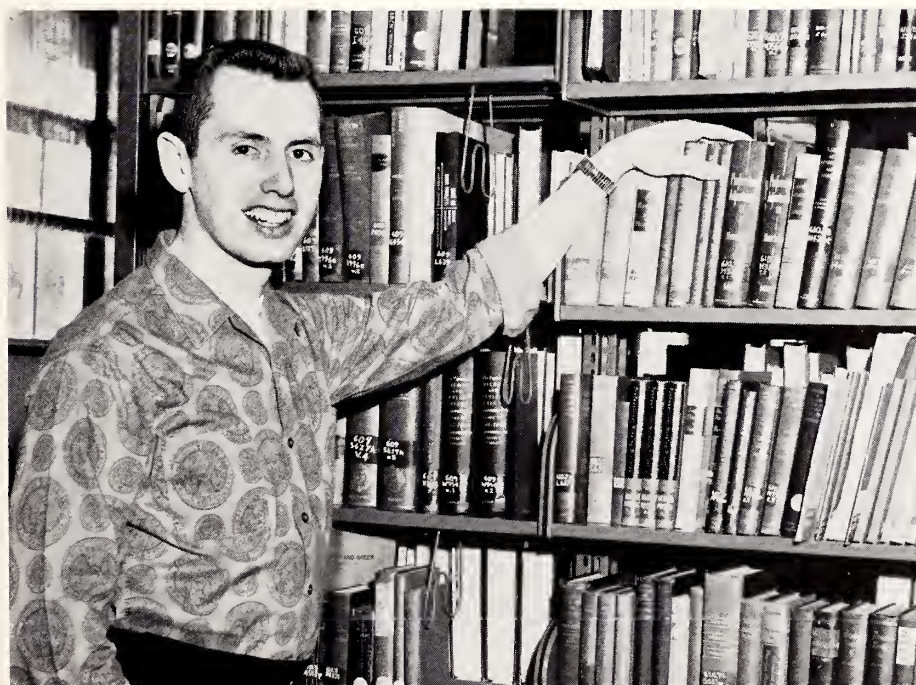

One of the most dedicated members of the LinC Honorary section is Jim Sanders. Jim achieved this honor by serving as editor of the 1961 LinC, co-chairman of Homecoming, vice-president of Lambda Chi Alpha, and president of the Union Board. Jim has served the school in many ways during his four years.

Sharon Frohbieter

A sparkling, bubbly personality . . . Sharon has won her campus prominence. She was Homecoming queen, cheerleader, and this year was president of the Chi Omegas.

Eddie Cole

Known for all the work he has done on campus and in Lambda Chi, Eddie deserves to be a member of the LinC Honorary. He has served as editor of the Crescent and the 1960 LinC. His capability has increased with his efforts and his success is impressive.

Orchestra

If you enjoy listening to good music, you will find it in the Evansville College Orchestra under the direction of E. D. Thompson. Music plays an important role in the lives of these members. They devote much of their time to promoting good music to the people of the Tri-State area.

Madrigal Singers

The group, usually sixteen in number, is chosen for special voice quality and unusual interest in this type of music. Their approach to performance must be enthusiastic and devoted since they give their own time for rehearsal. Their programs include madrigals of the Elizabethan era, modern madrigal settings, and unusual art songs. The Madrigal Singers have many engagements in the area each year. One of the high spots last season was the very successful appearance at the banquet of the Indiana Chamber of Commerce which was held at the French Lick Hotel. Such appearances, together with Christmas programs and campus concerts, make up the activities of the year.

The Madrigal Singers of Evansville College under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Shepard, co-head of the music department, fill a unique place among the organizations of the Music Department.

Choir

"Music is . . . the perfect expression of the soul," stated Robert Schumann. This seems to be the feeling of the students in the Evansville College Choir directed by Harrison Boughton. Throughout the year the choir engages in many activities both on and off the campus. The group sings for vesper services, chapel programs, and convocations. This spring the annual tour took them to Terre Haute, Crawfordsville, and Indianapolis, as well as several other cities around the state.

Band

That snappy band you see on the football field is the Evansville College Band under the direction of Wesley Shepard. When the last football game has ended the spats and crossbelts are hung up for another year and the band returns to concert playing. During the spring quarter the band hits the road for a tour to the surrounding areas.

WEVC is operated solely by Evansville College students in the interest and for the entertainment of the student body. At the present time WEVC is operated on a frequency of 91.5 megacycles from 5 to 10 p.m. on weekdays. It also broadcasts many of the Evansville College basketball games. The studios are located on the third floor of the Administration Building. This year WEVC grew bigger and better than ever before. Many problems were overcome, programs improved, and station business established on a firm foundation.

The spring quarter brought along many activities with Dolores Reasor being elected to preside over chapter meetings.

Dot Darnell was selected Evansville Tri-State Auto Show Queen, and Bonnie White was runner-up in the contest. Another one of our beauties, Suzanne Greinke, placed third in the 1960 Miss Evansville Contest and was also AOPi's Homecoming Queen candidate.

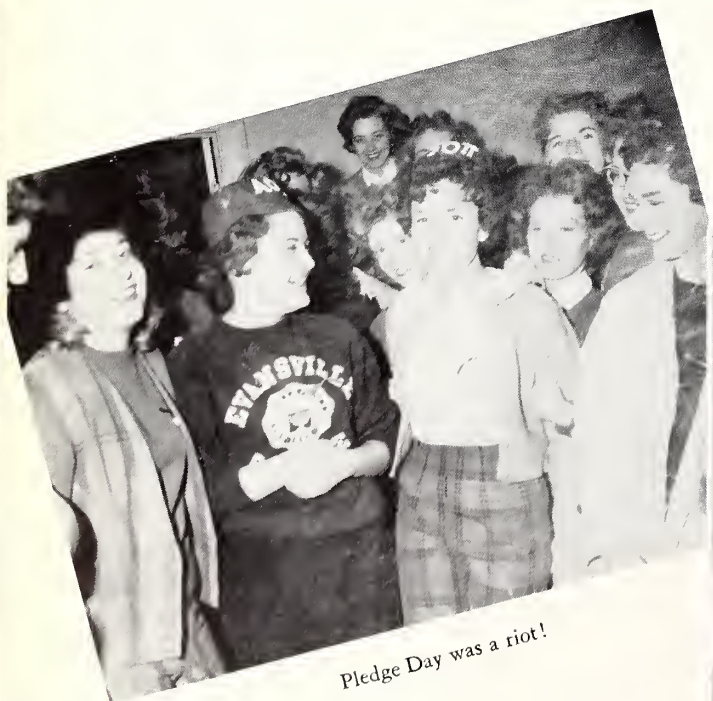

Musical Madness saw the AOPi's don Indian costumes and dance their way to first place in the Women's Division. Director Barbara Grote was awarded the best director's award.

In the fall, we moved into our new suite which was decorated with a Greek theme in mind. Early rush caught us transforming our suite into an authentic Greek setting for the rotation party. At the informal party, the theme went Hawaiian with Sandy Droll making the plans and Jackie Sue

Smith, who spent the summer in Hawaii, teaching the girls to hula. The traditional Rose Dessert formal party closed the rush season. We filled our quota with twelve new energetic pledges.

Our girls held many jobs of responsibility during the year. Class elections found Bonnie Riney as treasurer of the senior class and SGA delegate-at-large along with Karen Rice taking notes as secretary of the sophomore class. Judy Werneke was elected chairman of the Union Entertainment Committee and secretary of the Union Board. Nancy Eilers was elected president of Women's Council and Maris Wilson president of Panhellenic.

Before the end of school last year, Betas elected and installed officers for the following year. Wheeling the gavel was Martha Lockwood, ably assisted by Vice-President June Bartlett, Recording Secretary Jody Kimm, Corresponding Secretary, Darlene Kissel, and Treasurer Janice Kleitz. Under the direction of Karen Thomas rush began with our Oriental Rotation party. Next was Beta Dreamland, then the Formal rush party highlighted by the Pink Lady Ceremony. Pledge day the new pledges Judy Stutzman, Carol Umbach, Dorcas James, Laurie Prokop, Cindy Hall, and Diana Blackburn were treated to lunch by their Big Sisters and Mothers. That evening all attended the EC football game then enjoyed a slumber party at the Sig Ep House.

For homecoming, under supervision of Carole Grimm, we won first prize for our lawn display which was a brightly colored toy train with the theme of "Choo Choo 'em up Aces." We also came in second in the tug-of-war. Our Queen candidate was Nancy Stoops.

With the help of the Mother's Club and Alums, we furnished our new sorority suite in Moore Hall. It is wonderful to have a "home" to call our own.

December 12, Founder's Day, was celebrated with a party given by the Alums. Carole Grimm, Diana Blackburn, and Cindy Hall became members of Angel Flight; and Laurie Prokop joined Alpha Psi Omega.

Spring brought entry into Musical Madness under direction of Carole Grimm and Janet Berry. The year ended with the annual Senior Picnic and Spring Formal.

Rush was work but it sure was fun!

Chi Omega

Chi Omega Sorority has again completed another busy and successful year. In the spring of last year, Sharon Frohbieter came into the office of president, while also reigning as Military Ball Queen.

At May Day the Chi O's invited their favorite professors to the annual breakfast. Connie Brammer was honored as May Day Queen. The Panhellenic Scholarship trophy was received for the third time. Earlier, at State Day, the chapter was presented the scholarship trophy for the fourth time.

Two of the sisters were honored as sweethearts by Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternities at their spring formals. Suzie Staker was named Lambda Chi Crescent Girl and Marsha Thompson, Sig Ep Sweetheart.

This fall, the Chi O's began keeping house in their new suite. Fifteen girls were pledged during rush. Rita Barton was rush chairman with the theme of the informal party "Alice in Collegeland." Keeping the crown within the sorority, Nora Fisher was crowned Homecoming Queen, being the seventh consecutive Chi O Homecoming Queen. The chapter placed second in the homecoming display division.

Rita Barton and Sharon Frohbieter were named to Who's Who. Peggy Madden was elected vice-president of the senior class, and Sandy Smith served as vice-president of the sophomore class. Cheering the Aces were Annette Tapley and Nancy Stofleth with Diana Harris as majorette and Basketball Queen.

This was the last time Pledge Kelsch forgot her pledge hat.

Phi Mu

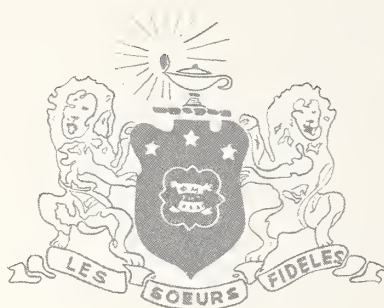

Phi Mu opened the year by moving into its new sorority suite, which is decorated in accents of pink, white, aqua and yellow with floor-to-ceiling draperies in shades of aqua on white. Meetings, parties, studying and general get-togethers will be held in our suite.

Several meetings were held in the members' homes during the summer to plan rush which we plunged into in October with a visit to "Chez Phi Mu," a celebrity party, for our rotation party.

Guests were entertained at the Phi Mu Pow Wow in the suite for our informal party, and the traditional "Formal Perfume Party" at the Homestead. On pledge day Phi Mu received the largest pledge class when fifteen girls chose to wear the rose and white. We became more acquainted with our new sisters at a luncheon in their honor and a slumber party that night.

During Homecoming festivities Phi Mu's Mary Ann Stahlberg captured the "Miss United Fund" trophy and the chapter received the trophy for the second consecutive year for collecting the most money for the United Fund. Displaying our muscles, Phi Mu won the tug of war. Our Homecoming Queen candidate, Mary Ellen Rauch, was runner-up to homecoming queen.

All Phi Mus are proud of their sisters who have received special honors during the year. Nancy Williams served as Commander of Angel Flight and several Phi Mus were initiated into this organization during the year. Annabelle Grabhorn and Sunny Goodman led the Aces' cheers and Donna Walton was a majorette with the College Band. Mary Ann Stahlberg served as treasurer of the sophomore class and Annabelle Grabhorn served as chairman of the Union Dance Committee. Mary Ellen Rauch was initiated into Sigma Alpha Iota.

Let's hear this one next, pledge

Lambda Chi Alpha

Lambda Chi Alpha, oldest national Greek fraternity on the EC campus, found the 1960-61 school year among its best in all phases of college life. With members in every department and a hand in every activity, honors and trophies were bestowed upon the membership in record-breaking fashion.

Lambda Chi Alpha activities carried over from last spring when Jack Coale was elected S.G.A. treasurer and the fraternity was awarded the Inter-Fraternity Council Scholarship Trophy and the S.G.A. All-Sports Trophy.

With the coming of fall and a new school year, the men of Lambda Chi Alpha picked up where they left off by making a clean sweep of Homecoming festivities. Jim Sanders brought home the Mr. United Fund Trophy, while the fraternity homecoming display committee, headed by Jack Kinkel, accepted the first place Lawn Display Trophy.

The work of the brothers didn't stop with Homecoming. Members of Lambda Chi Alpha were found in all college functions, including sports and social affairs. Eleven Lambda Chis were members of the EC varsity football team.

In intramural sports, Lambda Chi won the Red Flag Football League with a perfect 5-0 record and also captured the Turkey Run to pile up a commanding lead for the 1961 All-Sports Trophy.

The wide range of Lambda Chi activities includes the leadership of brothers in various campus activities and organizations. Jim Sanders served as president of the Union Board and Pi Delta Epsilon; Eddie Cole, president of the Inter-Fraternity Council; Joe Black, vice-president of the Union Board and president of the History Club; Jim Curry, manager of WEVC; and Harold Teague, president of the Arnold Air Society. Brothers Eddie Cole, Jack Coale, Jim Sanders and Joe Black were named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

On December 7 the men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon celebrated their third anniversary as a chapter in the realm of their respective fraternity. Work toward the betterment of SAE and Evansville College is the goal set by this fraternity. The public relations committee, which was set up last year with this reason in mind, is working on several projects that will gain recognition for the college, as well as for the fraternity.

The presence of the SAE's is evident on our campus. The men of this organization are on various union committees, SGA committees, and are also in many other activities. Mike Spence holds the number one office on campus, that of Student Government president. Larry Pond served as editor of the Crescent during the fall quarter, while several of his brothers worked on the staff.

SAE's also shine in the sports world. Danny Phillips led the Indiana Collegiate Conference in punting, while Dwight Tapley and Jon Dekker saw considerable action with Coach Paul Beck's football squad. Playing a key role in Coach Arad McCutchan's hardwood plans is Paul Utley. After finishing second in last year's intramural program, the men of SAE are fighting hard to regain the spot which they occupied the prior year.

In January, Harold Becker left office, after serving two consecutive terms as president. Harold's two terms were unprecedented in the history of Indiana Epsilon.

Promotion and show business go right along with SAE on the Evansville Campus. This is evident by the success of the PHILO BLACKOUTS. One of the highlights of the year was SAE's sponsorship of the Kingston Trio.

Pledges Hess and Baskett had "sitdown" troubles for a week.

President Dave Schmitt

Sigma Phi Epsilon has once more outdone itself with a prosperous year, packed full of achievement and honors. Leading the fraternity was Dave Schmitt, president; John Harrelson, vice-president; Jerry Heierman, secretary; Jerry Hochstetler, comptroller; and Ron TenBarge, historian.

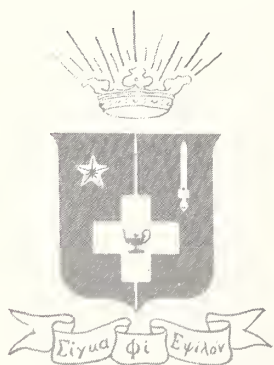

Jerry Clark directing, Sig Eps took the first place trophy for Vocal Varieties, singing several arrangements from South Pacific. Following the victory, the Sig Eps won Musical Madness. Under the direction of Jerry Heierman, Sigma Phi Epsilon took first place in the men's division and best over-all production trophy. Sig Eps also took first place in the tricycle race at Homecoming this year.

Sigma Phi Epsilon members are active in many campus organizations and hold various offices. They are: Jerry Clark, senior class president, choir president, and chairman of the Union Fine Arts Committee; Dave Schmitt, junior class vice-president; Jerr Heierman, Phi Mu Alpha president; Ron Ten Barge, deputy group commander; Dan Briedenbach, president of Circle K; Chester Mayflower, national treasurer for Kappa Chi; Jerry Fox, band president.

The Mother's and Wives' Club has been active supplying the house with drapes and new furniture.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

Last spring the men of Tau Kappa Epsilon elected the following men as officers for 1960-61: president, Jack Dever; vice-president, Gene Seider; secretary, Leroy Emge; Treasurer, Bob Hardesty; pledge trainer, Bill Kirsch; historian, Jerry Thurman; chaplain, Dennis Schneider; sergeant-at-arms, Ron Ruminer.

There were many changes in the chapter house during the past year. The most important of these were the remodeling of the upstairs and downstairs bathrooms, the acquisition of a pool table and a ping-pong table, and the purchase of new drapes for the front room and the staircase.

The Tekes acquired two new trophies during the past year. The first of these came from our performance in Musical Madness, in which we walked off with the second place trophy. The Teke Sweetheart trophy was purchased by the fraternity to keep account of our sweethearts in the future.

The Order of Diana was found doing its usual best during the past year. The men of Tau Kappa Epsilon appreciate them and thank them for their help. To aid the Order of Diana in the great job that they are doing, a Father's Club was formed and has already shown its worth to the chapter.

The TKE social activities for the year began with our alumni picnic and freshman parties during the summer, Halloween and Homecoming parties during the fall, and Christmas and St. Valentine's Day parties in the winter. The Sweetheart was chosen by the men of the chapter and was crowned at our annual Red Carnation Ball in the spring.

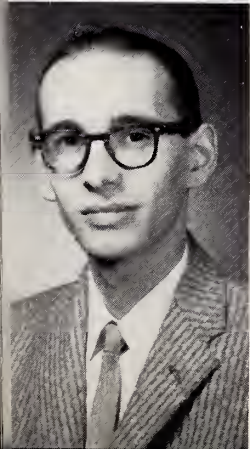

The house was in top shape for Founders Day.

The Student Union Board is the governing body for all activities that are carried on in the McCurdy Alumni Union Building. Members of the Board are elected each spring by the student body. A student must work two or more years on a Union Core Committee to be eligible to run for one of the positions on the Board.

This year's Board worked hard to make this year's Union Activities bigger and better than ever before. Vocal Varieties and Musical Madness were two of the bigger events.

There are over 2,500 students and guests who use the facilities of the building during a day.

Titzer on TD with help from Magnus and Ross.

Dekker snags a long one.

LeDuc around end for short gain.

Phillips starts in to help ACES by another long punt.

Seib rolls out to pass getting blocking from Rohleder (18) and Lutterbach (30).

Cary (64) and Koehler (22) move in for the kill.

LeDuc cracks over for the score.

Athletic Business Office

Don Ping is director of athletics and professor of physical education on the campus. He is always on hand for all the games whether they are college or intramural.

Bob Hudson serves as business manager for the athletic department. Among his many duties is handling ticket sales for all college games.

Mrs. Lucille Hudson works on the many records that must be kept by the athletic department.

Mrs. Valeda Collins handles the correspondence that is sent for the office.

Freshman

Back row: G. Bruner, E. Pace, J. Greer, J. Braun, B. Latimer, D. Baskett, J. Cason, T. Clark. Back row: J. Saviolo, D. Cunningham, C. Raymond, C. Herdel, C. Zausch, W. Boultinghouse, J. Horsketter, R. Bennett, D. Bennett, B. Stucke, Coach Don Ping.

Coach Ping's yearlings started off their year by dumping Wabash 44-6 then ran into trouble, losing to Southern Illinois, 36-0, and to Indiana State, 28-7. Even with this not too impressive record, big things are expected from these men.

Coach talks over strategy with John Saviolo.

Football

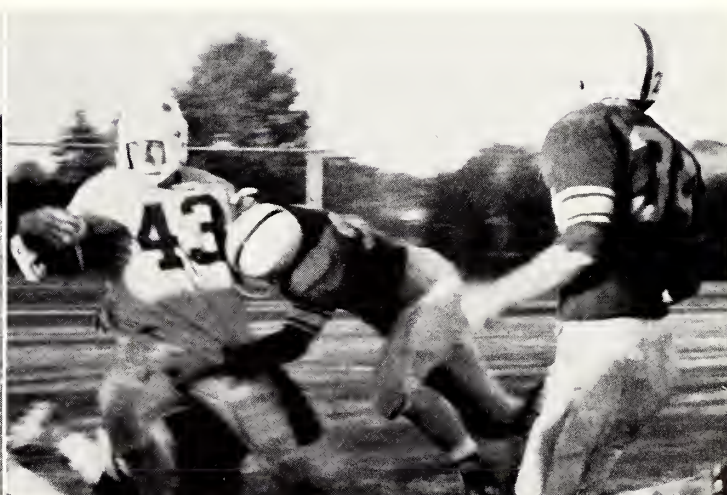

Wayne Boultinghouse busts up the middle for a short gain.

Boultinghouse again on an end-around.

Jerry Braun cuts down the opposing fullback.

Dave Bennett picks up 12 yards around end.

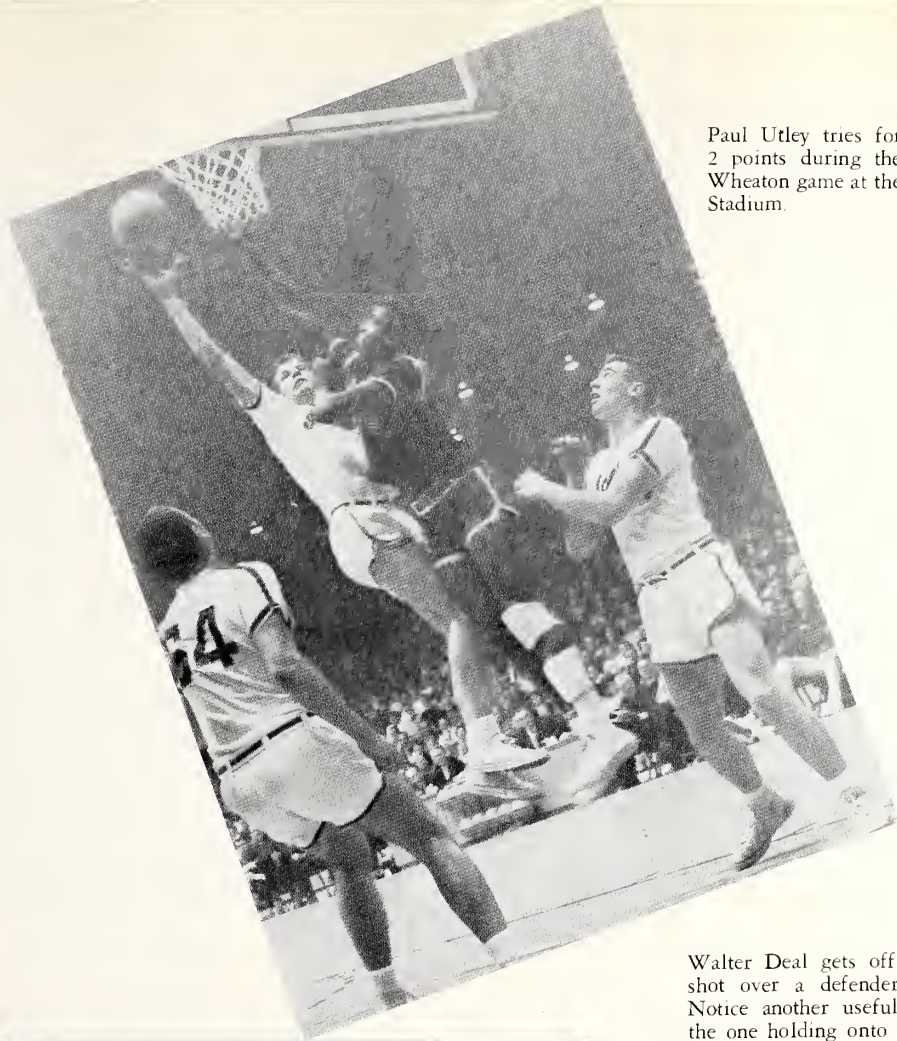

Basketball

Coach Arad McCutchan (center) confers with Assistant Coach Paul Beck as to the method of attack the Aces will use during the second half. Freshman Coach Ray Bawel watches the team warm up before the start.

Walter Deal gets off a jump shot over a defender's hand. Notice another useful hand—the one holding onto the shirt of Dale Wise (54).

Dale Wise squeaks between two Ohio State defensive men for 2 points.

Marv Pruett was often, as in this case, at the head of the fastbreak. Paul Utley is there too to help.

Ed Rolan didn't have too much trouble getting open for this jumpshot, but the Aces had more trouble with the nation's Number 1 team, Ohio State.

Jim Nossett leaps back to contend for a rebound with Tom Meschery, St. Mary's All-American.

Deal drives past two startled DePauw guards for a two-hand layup. With him on the fastbreak was Tom Hamilton (32).

Finals must be coming up soon as one student crams. He must be the only one as other students cheer on the Aces to a victory.

The Evansville College Purple Aces again proved themselves one of the top basketball drawing teams in the country. Even though the Aces didn't have a winning season (won 11, lost 16) the fans still turned out en masse to cheer their team on. This is a credit to the community of Evansville and to Evansville College. The Aces lost five seniors this year and have some of the best sophomore and freshman prospects to ever attend Evansville College.

NCAA Clinic

March 16, 1961

Coach Arad McCutchan, member of the national rules committee, discusses rule changes with other members of the NCAA Clinic.

Everett Shelton, moderator of the NCAA Clinic, diagrams an offensive pattern.

Evansville College served as host to this year's clinic. Everett Shelton, former Wyoming coach and now at Sacramento State in California, headed the meeting. He was assisted by Don Ping of Evansville.

Attending the clinic were some of the Posey County coaches and several of the Evansville high school coaches. Also present were college coaches who had teams competing in the NCAA college division finals.

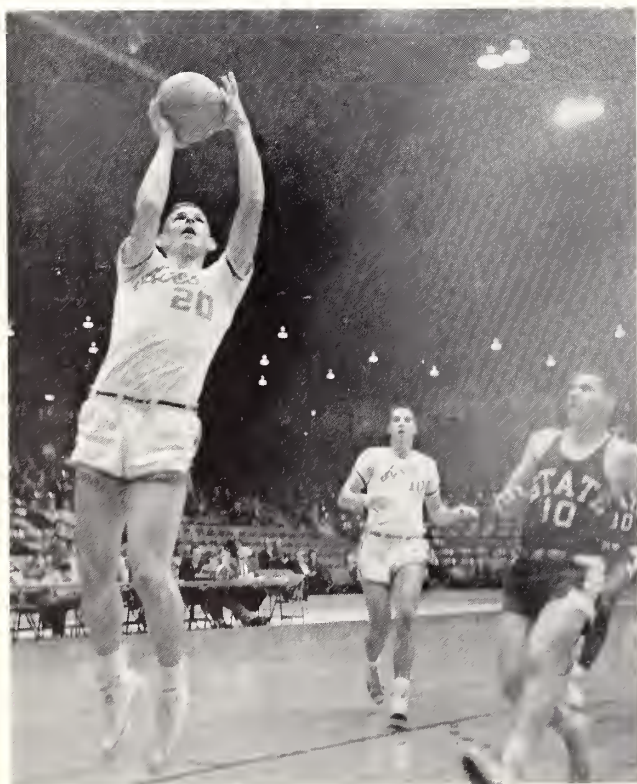

Indiana high school coaches discuss rebounding and better ways to handle the ball.

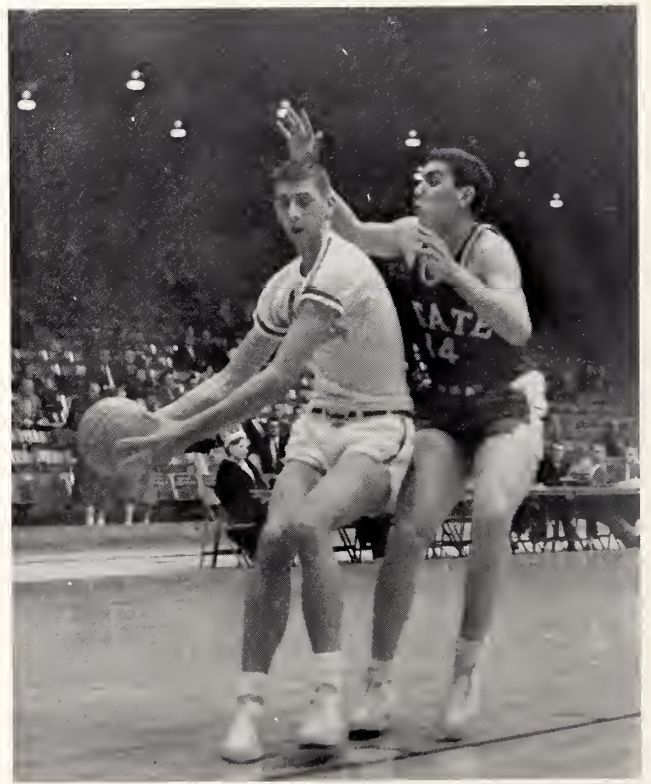

Freshman Basketball

Richard Bennett goes up for a lay-in against Indiana State.

Intramural Basketball

SAE Jon Dekker and LXA Merle Barth fight for position under the board to get a rebound during the Lambda Chi Alpha-Sigma Alpha Epsilon game.

Bob Latimer wheels around Richard Seib during the final game of the intramural basketball program.

Spring Practice

With spring come grass, buds, love ... and football practice. It becomes a mixture of energy, enthusiasm and optimism. The players strain—grunts are heard as pad hits dummy. Kidding is part of the game—an end is grabbed by the belt by a slow tackle to rile him. Exhortations are frequent from the coaches—free as well as insistent. And when sundown closes another day of practice, the squad hopeful trudges toward the shower with a dummy bending his shoulders—content with his day.

Trials of red flag football—Sigma Alpha Epsilon's Mike McGregor is out with a split-open eye.

Lambda Chi Alpha's Bob Carter runs up the middle for a 10 yard gain.

Intramural Baseball

Harvey Rosenmeier, on first base, grabs the throw from second baseman to retire a speeding runner.

Lambda Chi Steve Sanford has no opportunity to catch the ball as an ROTC batter pounds one into left field.

Baseball

Coach Ping uses the fungo to hit balls to the infield while Ron Tepool waits for the throw in.

It's back to first on hands and knees to beat the pick-off throw by the Ball State pitcher.

Third Baseman Larry Duncan exhibits good form in taking a throw from right field to nip a runner trying to go from first to third.

Coach Don Ping gives some pointers to rookies Barry Hoppen and Walt Henry.

* Home games

The catcher crouches — the umpire crouches for a call — but Don Hess makes their efforts unnecessary as he connects for a hit over third base.

Ron Wannemuhler braves the rain to sink a putt at the third hole.

Bob Titzer tees off on the first hole in the match.

Golf

Larry Galloway holes out a 3-foot putt.

Ron Wannemuhler, Keith Kuhlenschmidt, Jack Mentzel, Larry Galloway, Bob Titzer, and Captain Morgan.

Girls' Physical Education

Many girls find modern dance to be the best way to learn coordination.

Volleyball ranks high on girls' list of favorite physical education classes.

Each fall the sororities have a volleyball tournament.

Barbara Nunn leads her class in modern dance through its exercises.

Editor's Note . . .

"Not the end—not even the beginning of the end, but it is, perhaps, the end of the Beginning."

This quotation from Winston Churchill best summarizes this book and this year. To some of us this year will be the end of our formal schooling and the beginning of our lives' career. To all of us this book should help serve as a reminder of just a few of the wonderful times that were spent at EC.

A book like this would be incomplete without expressing my thanks to the many students and faculty members who have done so much to make the 1961 LinC what it is. Each member of the staff made it his business that this year's edition of the LinC would be better than ever before.

How could we miss having a good yearbook with a staff like this: Harry's talent with a brush and a camera; Kathy's captions under pictures in the Campus Life Section that had to be censored before the book went to press; Martha and Dave plowing through the senior pictures; Delbert conscientiously picking up loose ends and taking over photographic coordination; Judy Werneke always ready to help any way possible; Mary Ann's thoughtfulness and talent with words making her an asset to the staff; Linda making sure that Jack's picture was in the Greek Section and Jack following after so she would not forget; Bonnie and Sharon trying to find stray faculty members; Karen looking for the best side to photograph the queens; Jack trying to get Linda's picture on the ROTC Section and Linda following to make sure that he does; Judi, who calls herself the hot little number from across the hall; Sally and Caroline (Edith) always running around like the "Mad Hatter"; Kenny who would not trust our photographer to take the pictures in the Sport Section; and last but not least Mr. Stewart, who has to defend this book with his job.

To each of you, Thank you.
